

Rae

Recently returned from completion of her business degree at St. FX University, Rae has plunged back into her beloved horse world. A Co-owner of Venturing Hills Equestrian Training Center, she now oversees and grows the multi faceted business.

Pre university, Rae had a junior career that enjoyed privileged interaction with a number of highly acclaimed, recognized coaches, riders, trainers and owners. As a former Young Rider and established international rider who competed successfully at the 2 level, she brings a broad perspective back to the sport she loves and sees it as a conduit for young riders to develop into strong, confident, proactive, adults. Rae is currently partnering with ‘Black Tie Affair’ a 10 year old thoroughbred, eventer as well as old friend, ‘Princess Grace’ in the dressage ring. She has begun work with some young horses, looking for her next international eventer, acknowledging how important it is for every rider to find a great partner. A lot of time goes into finding her riders a good match to maximize potential.

Students love Rae’s positive, contagious, high energy coaching style. Rider and horse fitness are a key ingredient in her student’s successes.

Recognizing the value of education and professional development Rae and Mireille will continue working with Equine Canada offering Rider Level certification testing and continued pursuit of Equine coaching credentials. Rae has begun certification for her Coaching Specialist standard (Eventing) . She continues to ride for owners looking to train their horses in preparation for a well schooled and experienced mount.
